

Gate Theatre Collected Data Theatre Call to Action

This data was collated in June/July 2020 in direct response to @TheatreCTA Call to Action and spans 3 years from September 2017 - March 2020. September 2017 was the first full production in Ellen McDougall's tenure as Artistic Director at the Gate.

This data represents the people who responded to the optional survey. For each category, we have stated the total of people that represents.

We included the option to self-identify for every category. So the list of categories we are reporting on includes categories that people have described for themselves. We have listed these additional categories in italics.

In the categories Performers, Lead Artists and Freelancer Roles, the data does not take into consideration people who have had multiple contracts with us through September 2017- March 2020 - their data has been accounted for in each category only once.

For people who featured in multiple categories for example Performer and Freelancer Roles - they were asked to fill out two separate forms, so they are accounted for in each category separately.

We have listed all additional qualitative and narrative data submitted by anyone who self-identified at the end of this document. Some of the longer feedback is also included in notes at the end.

At the end of this document we have included the data that was submitted to the Arts Council for 18/19 – the categories on that form were different, and the number of respondents was different, but we wanted to share that in the interests of transparency.

ACTIONS GOING FORWARD

We at the Gate know we have work to do to improve representation across all areas of our work. We want our workforce - across all areas - to be representative of the communities that are local to the Gate, and of London more widely. We recognise that this involves a process of education, unlearning, and change. We want the Gate to be a truly anti-racist organisation, and to be a place that people – audiences and employees alike, want to come back to, and feel safe, supported, excited, and able to make their best work.

Alongside this data collection, we have begun work with everyone in our staff team and on our Board to address the changes we need to make at the Gate – this includes Anti-Racism training in addition to our annual Unconscious Bias training. We are also considering the ways we can ensure that freelancers who work at the Gate are given access to this training.

We are bringing the remaining members of our staff team back from furlough at the end of August, which will enable us to further develop and then publicise our Action Plan.

Our Action Plan will address specifically how we plan to make the changes we need to. It will include quotas, and timelines for each action. It will be a live document that is on the agenda at every Board meeting and is regularly checked in on with the staff team.

We also plan to use the learning we have gained from this exercise in data collection to reconsider how data is collected and represented in the future – it's an imperfect process, but we are very aware that it can make people feel even less seen and heard if it isn't done in the right way.

We are aware that this work is ongoing and constant and takes time to do properly. We are committed to it at the deepest areas of our work to ensure lasting change.

- London Irish (Irish passport)
- Middle Eastern, Mediterranean (not everyone from these areas is an Arab) - There is not a definition for me in equal opportunities forms. I am not black, brown or white. I have olive & light brown skin tone. I would like more representation please. I am british and another nationality. I am Middle Eastern-Mediterranean as my ethnic identity. I strongly feel that POC or BAME are not including me in the conversations and I don't enjoy being just put into the ethnic minorities group cause there is no other category for me to be in.
